

Religious Education (R.E)

At Prettygate Schools, R.E is an important subject that helps children to make sense of their beliefs and those of others. Through R.E lessons, children develop an understanding and respect for other cultures that will equip them well for life in the wider world. Their attention is drawn to the ethnic diversity within the community and beyond. R.E is usually taught discretely, with teachers planning interesting lessons that make effective use of artefacts, stories, multimedia, visitors, themed days and local visits to places of worship. The school follows the Essex Agreed Syllabus, which sees children learn about all the major faiths as well as explore secular views too.
